The techniques disclosed in document 1 and document 3 all pertain to methods for forming a MOS transistor gate-insulating film. Therefore, a person skilled in the art could easily conceive of changing the method for forming an oxynitride film disclosed in document 3 to the method for forming an oxynitride film disclosed in document 1.

Claims 4 and 11

The inventions described in claims 4 and 11 involve an inventive step relative to the documents cited in the international search report. Document 1 does not disclose "a procedure wherein the ratio of the aforementioned oxygen gas or oxygen compound gas to the aforementioned nitrogen gas or nitrogen compound gas contained in the aforementioned mixed gas is made to vary over time."

Claims 5 and 6, claims 12 and 13

The inventions described in claims 5 and 6 and claims 12 and 13 involve an inventive step relative to the documents cited in the international search report.

Document 1 does not disclose a feature wherein "the aforementioned nitrogen radicals and oxygen radicals are fed onto a substrate to be processed by placing said radicals in a gas current formed so as to flow along the surface of the aforementioned substrate."

Claims 7, 14, and 20

The inventions described in claims 7, 14, and 20 involve an inventive step relative to the documents cited in the international search report. Documents 1 and 2 do not disclose a feature wherein "a nitrogen gas and an
